In-class presentation:

Present a topic that interests you, either from a chapter in a textbook, or an actual journal article presentation, or even your own research.

The presentation should be 30 minutes total.

I will contact you, via email, or in-person meeting, with feedback on your presentation, and including the grade.

You will be graded mostly on your perceived level of effort in preparing this presentation, and an assessment of how well you understand the material you presented. The purpose of the exam is to get you to better understand a topic that was not covered in class, and one way to achieve this is for you to present it to the class.

Dates:
April 16: Husain and Ryan
April 18: John and Teddy
